If you are struggling to choose between careers, there is only one choice left. Which one you are going to start first, because most definitely you have to choose both of them. Is it because it's cool, trendy and everyone does that? No, there is a lot deeper meaning behind it.

Actually, having only one degree is very risky. You never know how long your career decision is going to last, especially with the influence that AI makes. AI is taking down so many professions and it's a serious problem for people who have a single career choice. They not going to have anything to rely on, if their boss is going to replace with cheaper and harder working version of them. That's why in this century of highly developed technology, you should let your knowledge have your back. Also try to choose from the ones that AI can't replace, but you never know if AI is not gonna replace you in 2 days, because ~~he~~^{it} learns what you learn in 4 years in 2 days. Sounds insane right? But it's our reality now and you should be ready to fight for a place to earn some money.

I brought the AI idea, because it is the main reason why everyone started to have more than one degree, career. Back the people would rely on a single career and it was pretty normal practice, until technology started replacing them one by one. People had to find ~~another~~ other ways to make living, even though they have studied. Their hard work, degree turned to stack of papers. After this kind of experience everyone is trying to lower the risks of staying jobless in the future. This is why new generation thinks twice about their future, they also have business ideas on the side.

Money, financial success - is a key to make a comfortable living. So you should know what to choose. ~~The~~ Only knowledge is going to take you somewhere.

This kind of topics should be brought more often, I loved sharing with my thoughts.

"How can teenagers balance schoolwork and free time?"

Nowadays, most of the teenagers face challenges in managing their time. This article will provide suggestions on how to achieve a good balance in life.

To begin with, the half of the day of teenagers, is already taken by school. From 8:00 to 15:00 teenagers spend their time learning at school. Moreover, sometimes teens may not have additional time for their hobbies.

Firstly, I suggest to teenagers to plan their day. For instance, write your plans to notebook, then schedule everything right. For example, wake up at 6:00, do your morning routine, then exercise and make a breakfast. After that go to school.

You will see the power of planning, to do not waste your time.

To conclude, for better time managing plan your day, and schedule your time properly.

It will help you, to better manage your time

Motivation is a crucial aspect of human society which drives our progress forward. For some people it might be difficult to stay motivated and focused, especially for teenagers during the school year. But how can they overcome this issue? This essay will discuss this problem and provide with a viable solutions.

Firstly, in order to stay motivated you have to establish a clear purpose. Well organized goal helps people to become more accurate and allows us to keep going forward with confidence. For instance, there are a plenty of people who did not pay attention for setting up their goals, which has caused problems with self-development and motivation. Thus, how you can improve your motivation and stay focused by setting up the major purpose.

Secondly, it is very important to find role models and mentors who will motivate you and indicate your mistakes. In the most of situations we do not even realize where exactly we have made a mistakes, and mentors are people who will provide you with information and keep your motivation on high level. As an example, you can find these people at school, university, library or even on social media. So that, I believe that appropriate people will assist you and raise your motivation.

In conclusion, motivation plays a huge role in people's lives. Being motivated boosts our progress to the top. By following the advices in this essay you will gradually raise your motivation, improve your self-being and achieve your major goals.

In our time we have a lot of opportunities to do something or to go somewhere. Everybody wants to have their best holiday, to remember these days of relaxing. So let's think what holidays does teenagers prefer?

In my opinion the holiday would be great if I visited beautiful country, where I can do many things. For example Japan, it's a really amazing country, which has breath taking views. Everybody knows about Sakura, but I think not a lot of people visited this place. Moreover Japan has fans, that consist of teenagers almost, because of their unique animations which calls anime. So teens who is interested in their sphere, definitely need to visit it. If you don't want to be alone, you can take your friends. So it'll be fun! Also there are teens, who wants, to take part in some kind of activity. We can visit a beach, that has a good view and play volleyball for instance.

To conclude you can choose what you want to visit most of all, it's only my opinion about that interesting places!

I suppose each of us want to study in Europe or United States where acceptance rate is very high, even if we want to be accepted to universities in our country we need to study well while it is possible.

Because when we will apply to university that we choosed first of all they will watch at our school grades, motivation and etc, it means that we need to focus on study process and do not pay attention for people who stay relaxed and don't think about their future life, we should not do that.

To begin with I want to say that how we study is how we will live in the future. Because if we will work hard while we're at school we will be accepted to the university of our dream and then get a well paid job that can afford everything we need and anything we want. For example all of us want to live the best life, travel around the world and athen like this, it also could be a good motivation for us.

In conclusion I want to say that everything in our arms, we need to stay focused to get everything.

„School is the best place in your life, where you can gain useful knowledge and learn how communicate with other people. When you will go to the university, you will miss your school time.“ How often have you heard such things from elder people? Nowadays more and more teenagers face with stress and anxiety during the school year. They have lack of motivation to study due to bad grades or problems with understanding the material. That is why a lot of students hate their school and can't wait to leave it. Nevertheless, I want to help other students who face with stress during the school year and give you some useful and helpful advice which can reduce your anxiety and increase your motivation.

First of all, you should recognised who or what is or reason of your stress. You need to know it because if you understand the reason, you will easily find the solution. Next stage is realising why you need to be focused throughout the school year. What is your goal? Why you need good grades? Think about this questions, try to answer and be honest with yourself. After this you need to fight with your anxiety and stress.

Stress is a ^{result} reason of your problems which happened in your school or maybe in your family. A lot of teenagers face with stress due to bad grades or problems with understanding the topics in ^{the} school. Besides this problems, some students feel pressure by their parents, that's why they start overthinking about their grades. If you want to overcome this problem you should find maybe a hobby which will be pleasant for you and gives you positive emotions. Having a hobby can help you to decrease the stress which you ~~or~~ were gained in the school. Moreover, you should speak with your parents and try to explain your uncomfortable feelings because they can help you. Also you can spend your free time with friends just having fun and relax.

In conclusion, I want to say that I understand all of you, how it is hard sometimes to deal with it. However, you should try to overcome it with your family and friends together, because you are not alone in this problem and only together with close people you can solve all your problems!

Nowadays, ~~with~~ due to significant technology development and social media platforms it can be very hard for teenagers to stay motivated and focus on their academic performance. In this article we will try to spot possible problems that may lead to decline in motivation and provide several solutions to redress it.

The first reason that may cause the rapid drop of your concentration during the ~~the~~ academic year is overuse of social media such as ~~the~~ Instagram and Youtube. Such habit can be addictive and you can waste your time doomscrolling Instagram for several hours. This can result to a loose of focus and motivation to study better at school which ~~can~~ can lead to bad academic performance.

(To address this issue) To redress this issue we suggest to start tracking the time to understand how much time you are spending in social media. Then, you need slowly reduce the amount of time that you spend on the Internet platforms. Therefore students will use this time rationally. For instance in their spare time ~~to~~ to relax and after this they will ~~have~~ dedicate them ~~(to studying)~~ to study necessary information for school.

To sum up, students nowadays facing numerous distractions, one of them is time wasting in social media. However, some regulations can ~~be~~ be added such as setting time for this to stay focused to perform well at school.

In the recent years, public, including all age and gender ranges, is getting more aware of the contemporary fact, getting seminal with the time passing by and technology advancements taking place, of the need of double-dial salary, or even more sources of earning money.

Nowadays, people witness lack of resources and amenities to make basic expenditures for themselves with the steadily rise of inflation and corruption. Correspondingly talking about the impact of the political and economical state on our middle range nationals, from day to day, we struggle with dissatisfaction due to not experiencing financial sustainability, even pushing our utmost endeavours on that.

Usually, the main prevalent pressure lays on male population of Kazakhstan, hence our traditions and nurturing abilities. Even little toddlers are playing shadowing types of games, taking the example of adults, when they show off the social disparity and need to bring money. Eventually, namely that serves as the reason why boys from young ages start being closely followed to illegal and manual work, then occurring on high notes of delinquency in our country.

Apparently, all that circumstances prevent that young boys going forward and ^{after} graduating universities and taking their diplomas for the requirement of their parents, frequently end up attending in corruption acts, while working as high-posted seniors in national departments.

The same kind of surpassing attitude goes on the female part of residents. Dreaming of reaching the standards peak in every field they relate with, including education, work requirements, beauty and carefree standards, household work and cuisine expenditures, women are implementing in their way to ensure everything and provide needs for themselves.

Even though it seems like everything is working out, public structure is not witnessing eradicating that habits of always seeking more success.

Obviously, there are enormous issues occurring with that unconscious need of big amounts of money beyond youngsters. Because of the reason of significantly poor families, experiencing poverty their whole life; men with unstable self-respect, based only on the percentages they take from their work projects; and women, hiding their humiliation because of the unnatural need to work full-time, taking all the responsibilities on themselves; in the end leading to new generation; not being able to experience their childhood fully, driven by the success cult.

How can teenagers stay motivated and focused during the school year?

Every beginning of the new school year feels like a punishment almost for all teenagers. And the problem is not on a willing to study or not. It is rather on being focused, motivated. And here, will be presented some advices.

Firstly, the most important thing to achieve goals in studying, is to make a plan. You cannot study properly and effectively without a good plan or schedule. You are going to lose a lot of time and chances to gain a bit more knowledge. There is no necessary to push yourself and aim on a big achievements, imprisoning yourself in a daily routine. For the beginning, it will be enough to point exact time and quantity of the lessons per week or month. With that, you will improve your discipline and do your duties autonomously.

Secondly, set exact goals and deadline. In order to keep improving with a less of waste time it is crucially important to have an aim. Only studying on a exact time and following your plan you will achieve a big results. In addition, having a dream or goal will positively push you and help to stay motivated and focused. Or, you may even compete with others students or friends in your studies. Competitive field will increase your effectiveness and overcome your own expectations.

As a conclusion, I have say that nothing is easy → achieves quickly. And except motivation you have to gain patience and never stop after a failure. Consistence - is your weapon. Stay focused and be glad even for small achievements.

Writing Variant 1

Readers have been invited to write article: "How can teenagers balance schoolwork and free time?" by a popular online magazine. I am one of the readers

Overall, many of us know the meaning of "time management". This is an important skill to control our time. This term includes of planning your days, weeks and more. Actually the planning helps you to keep your minds "clear", stay on the "wave", be able to remember events. So, this is a "device" how you can to achieve a balance.

Every teenager have free time. Practically, rest time also needs to be plan. It is significantly makes your free time better and healthier for you. Sometimes to read a book, watch a documental film is more better than play a videogame, which is not give you something good. For sure, if your schoolwork was very hard you are able to just lay in the bed and watch Tik Tok for example. It is always your choice how to spend rest time. I just ~~was~~ said my opinion.

To include my thoughts, I want to say that in modern like we have opportunities to manage our time. There are good apps to do it. But also we need to spend the rest time how it good for us. Practically it is do something good for you and what makes you relax at the same time. I think, and hope my suggestions will help to someone to achieve a good balance between schoolwork and free time.

Writing (Variant 2)

The idea of having a single career without education is becoming more popular and an old fashioned one. Teenagers think that becoming a popular and wealthy human is very easy. They have a big ambitious to reach their goals about having money. But in real life it does not work. I would like to explain why.

First of all, many of us have no wealthy parents that will give us money to open own business or give a good working place. In this life situation, only "gold children" will reach their goals.

Of course, some people get this success in young ~~old~~ ~~B~~ years. But the reason of this example is a simple lucky. They ~~are~~ just were remained.

I would like to give example from my parents' life. Despite of the fact, that they both from bad family, they could reach their place in this life. It is not only about education, it is about their real wish. They give us perfect education and if they tell about education need, I would prefer their opinion than unknown people's.

The big role in this situation is social media, there people show us ideal life, easy work without education. It is not true. So, I want to give you advise, learn and learn, everytime, this is your success. And how Abai said "learn is light, ~~is~~ unlearn is dark".

How can teenagers balance ~~the~~ schoolwork and freetime?

Nowadays, balancing school and personal life became a mainstream ^{problem} ~~issue~~ for many students and teenagers. They face with time-management, health issues, lack of free time to do other activities due to this situation. Thus, being able to organize precise time is vital for everyone.

So how we can solve this problem? Firstly, the root of this development is restricted regulations at school and excess amount of 'information'. As a result, the teenager is plunged to this stressful environment, which causes serious health problems like insomnia headaches. So this happens because the teenager can not find free time ~~and~~ to do other activities except school tasks. In order to get rid of this problem, the main thing (to establish a perfect balance between school and personal life) is ~~mainly~~ establishing an accurate schedule with plans. Commonly, when people do not organize their daily schedule accurately; they do not realize how much time is being wasted (with a perfect schedule.) For example, a teenager is exhausted, can not find enough time to do sport, but he spends most of his time on social media. Usually, we do not notice how time flies because of that. However, if we follow our attached schedule, we can manage other things too. Another thing is waking up early and sleep at the right time. The best sleeping time starts from 22:00 to 4:00. Most teenagers do their homework till the dawn, even until 02:00. But it is a way better to sleep at that time and awake up 2-3 hours earlier. With a good sleep, teenagers can reinforce their abilities to maintain dozens of things and perfectly balance their lives.

To conclude, it is vital to follow these things to get a balanced life.

"How i can balance schoolwork and free time?" - this question is always in teenagers mind. School life is very interesting, entertaining but sometimes can be a very heavy burden for our youngsters. And because of that reason, im going to give you a few useful tips to save your free time and balance it with schoolwork.

To beginning with, ~~school~~ i can say that it depends on "what school you are. Some schools can give you more free time than other schools, and other can be more difficult and give you a lot of homeworks. In that case, you should divide your time into schedules. For example, your school starts at 8.00 am, so while you are ^{at the} school you could do schoolwork. After that, you should do the schedule step by step. And very important thing: your schedule must have break times, maybe for lunch or etc. In your free time you need to rest, spend that time with your family, because that helps to relax.

and set off your brain ~~for~~^{from} stresses. Even if you don't have ~~dist~~ clear schedule and you can't follow them, then ask your friends or family to keep their eye on you. Try to reduce stress from your life, and think about your education, knowing when to stop.

This short tips will definitely help ~~you~~ teenagers to balance between free time and schoolwork. Achieving the perfect balance in self-control and school can be challenging, but why not to do so?

How can teenagers balance school work and free time?

It is a very popular topic in our time because we as a young teenagers obviously want to keep up with our own expectations. We want to experience everything and be the best at everything so we try to achieve that while we are still young. But sadly for us there are a lot of obstacles and I mean obstacles besides school. There are a lot of things to balance in our lives, significant portion of it takes our school. Obviously every kid hears that studying is our job and is much easier than the real ones. But when so it still takes a lot of our energy and tries to discipline us, it gets much worse if school isn't comfortable for a teenager. In addition to that teenagers still want to rest, that's the free time they would ever experience right? So of course some of them would prefer one over the other, and both of these choices might turn out very bad. If a kid focuses too much on his personal life forgetting about school he might get troubles with studying later on. Some goes for those who study too much and forget about making friends and enjoying their youth. That's why teenagers have to find a balance between these two, and my advice for balancing is not to rush, results will be good just have to be patient.

Nowadays there is an actual problem for young people just study in school. In the last few years

In the last few years amount of material to learn increased and school now take half of student's time. To help them balance schoolwork and free time we suggest couple of options.

To start with, all you need is to learn time management. I suppose most of the students wants to be successful in future and work over time, but this will not lead you to your dream. Organizing your schedule will balance your deals properly and solve a mess in your mind.

Moreover, take care of your health. Physical and mental issues destroy teenagers life. If you feel sick then you should rest. With good health you invest in yourself and gaining new opportunities. Then you should try something new, do activities that reduce your stress and negative thoughts. With organized schedule, healthy mind and body your last step is to be discipline. Always do what you obligated to, even if you do not want, because lazyness is evil. Be aware of your actions:

To sum up, everything is up to you. Self control and work are key point that will help you keep everything well.

Variant 1, How can teenagers balance schoolwork and ^{free} time

Teenagers are people aged ~~13-18~~ years from 13 to 18 years old. Commonly, they have a lot of energy and more creative than adults. In this period of life personality and preferences on which activity to do only start to develop. Most of the times, teenagers have big amount of activities to do in their free time. But they can't manage all because school takes out most of their free time. How can they balance school with hobbies?

In my opinion, the hardest thing is to understand the lessons and pass the exams. This is the main purpose of the school and takes a lot of efforts combined with time. Furthermore, teenagers have to do their homework, and if they are unlucky, they have to ~~to~~ spend more than an hour on homework.

Personally, I lived far away from school and school took about seven hours a day and homework was one hour work. Despite that, I could balance my hobbies with school well. My advice is to ~~to~~ rotate physical and mental activities. For example, after ~~to~~ school I went to extra lessons, ~~to~~ it drained my mental sources. When ^{our} ~~my~~ minds were tired we ~~used~~ ^{usually} to go to the pool or go to the gym. We felt a lot better after physical activities.

Moreover our ~~body~~ ~~we~~ bodies were exhausted, our minds took a rest. With fresh heads we went home and did homework. And this process has been repeating since now. It works well because we let our physical and mental states rest when they need to.

Also, if you don't have any friends interested in this you can still go alone and make more friends. For example, it is possible find yourself a gym mate.

To sum up, to not get tired of school you can do your physical hobby. Because it helps to reboot after school. In addition you can make a schedule. It will make managing your free time easier. Doing all that ~~can~~ combined with enough sleep is able to make you productive and happy, if you enjoy it obviously. It is my experience, ~~and~~ you can learn from it and get better. But you don't have to, it's all up to you.

Teenagers - are the most productive people. They have motivation, ideas, so many thoughts, but the thing is, they get lazy very easily. And keeping them motivated ~~is~~ really hard. So what can we do?

To start with, teenagers mostly complain about school. They say that they get tired and that's exactly why they're not motivated to do anything. For instance, after school, they try to do their hobbies, but they're too tired. ^{It} That means, that they can't balance schoolwork and free time.

Otherwise, there is another problem. After school, they do only one thing - open their social media on their phones. It's because, they call it the best way to relax. For example, they can watch funny videos, ~~at~~ their friend and etc.

In my opinion, we found the problem. Instead of doing something useful, they just use their phones. Somebody once said - "the best way to relax from physical exercise - is to do brain exercise". If they, they will use this method, I'm sure they will definitely feel a lot better. Wish that, you, they not only study, they also have some time for their hobbies and interests.

To conclude with, I think, teenagers should use their free time better. Instead of laying around and not doing anything, they should do their hobbies. But of course, even relaxing is (hard) really important. Just do it properly and you will balance school and your free time & just right.

Stay motivated and focused during the school year is the main part on way to study. Some people can give up when they cannot do something and that's why they lose their motivation and ability to study. But i think it's avoidible situation.

Firstly, watch motivational video. Maybe it is important to some people who is losing or lost their motivation and focus. With it they have got much support and help

Secondly, it's stay focus on your dream. Dream the only thing that can push us to do first step. The person who lose his/her dream, also lose the motivation. If the person lose their motivation, he/her also cannot accept hard decision.

In conclusion, I can say that discipline stay over motivation. But motivation also play high role in our way and life.

It is no secret that school year gives most of us anxiety. However, on the first of September we feel motivated, thrilled even. Where does this feeling go? And how can we maintain it throughout the entire academic year?

Concentration and focus on schoolwork are crucial for a productive year. Therefore, you should eliminate everything that distracts you. Most of the time youngsters' focus is affected by social media. Despite being entertaining and engaging, apps like "TikTok" and "Instagram" are fake. So I recommend deleting them, especially if they have negative impact on your mental health. Now you can replace social media with hobbies, and become the better version of yourself. Attend gym, learn a new language and enhance your schoolwork. Now is your time!

Motivation is another common problem that makes us stressed. The thing is, motivation will not always be present, so you should learn to have discipline. Having a solid schedule, even something like morning habits will give you energy. It will motivate you during hard days.

To sum up, staying motivated and focused during the school year is possible and easily achievable.

Follow my advices and try to have a positive mindset at all times. Remember, you ~~are not~~ ~~(not)~~ can do it!

In the contemporary world, everyone is aware of how hard is to stay motivated and focused during the school year, particularly during final years. Owing to this kind of problem I would give you some tips in this article. Firstly I would recommend you to do not forget about your extra-curricular activities. Your own hobbies or deals should be always on top, for relaxing you. In other words, in the period of doing your hobby you may distract your attention and have fun. A case in point is a graduate, who is preparing for his exam during a whole day. But after preparation, he goes outside and plays football, distracting himself. Secondly, I would give you a tip to always develop your communication skills. The communication skills always play an essential role in daily routine, from studying at school to talking at home. In other words, by communicating with people you might say them your problems and thoughts, because you are not a robot, you are capable of feeling a different sorts of emotions including ~~or~~ sadness. For instance, me and my friend are sharing with whole news and bad emotions every day, each other. Because I know that she helps me to not feel unpleasant emotions (Additionally).

At the end of my article, I wanna say that the both of two advice help me to keep a balance between my private life with study, motivating me to achieve whole of my goals.

Hi everyone!

Chill guys (it's a meme) and parents also!

Did you ever think about your favorite and perfect holidays? When everything is fine, you have fun, your homework is done, you are just spending your time with your favorite people's?

It's also article for parents that think about their children's rest? You probably want to take care about them and help them and also want to have fun with them? Then, listen.

Firstly, we need to do our homework done. Perfectly, it's Friday evening, when you already come home, and do your homework. Why Friday's evening? Because at Saturday Sunday we get so excited about holiday things.

Secondly, we need to think (oh no, again!?) what we gonna do on our holidays? It depends on your character, friends parent's and season. If you have friends and you love to get out and it's also winter, do snowboard or ice skating. If you are not have friends and you are introverted person you can do your fav hobbies at home! E.g. crocheting, knitting, painting and etc. The main thing - favorite things. I love doing gifts for my close people and it's also a christmas eve, so this holidays, i need to go to market, buy gifts and pack them.

Thirdly, you need to think about Monday, what you gonna mean this day, your bag (and), do spa things, take a shower, do a blowout and etc.

I think it's perfect holiday things match. people's my age would love that, especially girly girlies.

That's all, if you liked it or hated it, write a comment, tap the like button to this article and subscribe for my page.

love you! xoxo

III V-3.

Holidays. It is a magic and wanted word for teenagers. During holidays you can do whatever you want, go to any place, shopping with friends if you want to. Throughout the whole school year teenagers dreaming about holidays. Maybe, for someone thoughts of holidays giving them a motivation. But what type of holidays teenagers would enjoy the most?

(In my opinion) The most interesting holiday is Christmas. Who doesn't like snow? Playing with friends snowball is very funny, even if you hate winter season at all. The most exciting part of holiday — gifts. Gifts makes people happier, giving them only warm memories about this cold winter. For example, I would love to gift to my friends.

I don't like to claim presents, I prefer to gifting good emotions for my family. So, maybe someone already have done a special present for you? Who knows...

At the end, I want to add that winter holidays is perfect for my age, gifts increasing relationships, Friends — very important people in your future life.
