IV Writing

I had never expected the school trip to end like this. Our class went on the trip to the Louvre Museum, France. And that trip ended awful.

Firstly, my teacher had booked an exhibition that was very famous and luxurious. It was about Napoleon Bonaparte, the emperor of French Empire during XIX age. We needed to pay a visit to that exhibition because we had a history project in school. However, when we arrived, that exhibition was closed! They closed it without any notices or warnings at the entrance door or the website of their museum. And to be honest that situation had upset me.

Secondly, the staff who worked that day was very disrespectful, mean and rude. They did their job just for their managers, without any (enthusia) enthusiasm. They also ignored us, didn't answer our questions about exhibitions and even bad words were spoken. I think this staff must be fired out!

Thindly, I lost my phone while I was on the trip. It's very sad, because I literally lost the part of me. I hope ~~X~~ that police will find it.

But on second thoughts, the trip had also good moments. I uisited the France, especially Paris, it was very exciting and interesting. I made new friends from France, they're very cool! And I even tried french cōusine: croissants, éclain, snails, fresh bagguette and other food.

In my conclusion, I'll say that this trip was mixed. Despite of bad moments with museum and my phone there were also good moments. And I hope that my next visit to this magnificent and cultural country will be better and without troubles.
